

The company was founded by Patricia Lombreglia, RN, BSN, CMC, CCM and Laura Holly-Dierbach, RN, BSN, CMC, MPA. Each has worked in the field of aging services and health care administration for more than 25 years. Their vision was to create a specialized and unique care management company. They wanted to utilize their extensive experience in aging, Alzheimer's disease, nursing and health care management to respond to a growing need for quality aging care services. They are passionate about the field of aging and each brings a wealth of professional experience, education and specialized credentials to the organization.

Who We Are ...

Just like our name says, we help older adults and their families find solutions to the challenges they may be facing related to aging. Our care managers are experienced problem solvers who are specially trained to provide recommendations and identify options for clients and their families. We work to relieve you of the stress associated with trying to find the best care options, and navigate through a maze of health and community services. As your care managers, we function as an advocate, liaison, and support system for the older adult and their family.

We are experienced and credentialed health care professionals qualified to assess the health, psychological and social needs of the older adult. We develop care plans with specific recommendations, and then provide ongoing monitoring to carefully address changes in the older adult's daily life.

What We Do ...

- Comprehensive assessments and care plans.
- Develop and screen quality referrals, and then coordinate and monitor in-home services.
- Serve as a liaison for families living at a distance by overseeing care, and regularly communicating updates and observations to families.
- Provide medication oversight, and attend medical appointments with clients to ensure there is good communication, coordination and follow through.
- Serve as a professional liaison to coordinate and communicate services between the older adult client, family and health care providers.
- Provide emergency crisis management, intervention and support.
- Ongoing education and supportive counseling.
- Retirement placements to senior housing, assisted living, nursing homes and continuing care communities.
- Provide client advocacy in hospitals and long-term care facilities.
- Review financial, legal and medical issues and offer referrals to specialists.

How We Can Help ...

Care Management Services can be especially useful in the following situations:

- There has been a recent diagnosis of Alzheimer's Disease or another dementia, and the family needs help with legal, financial and care related planning issues.
- If a spouse is feeling overwhelmed by the care needs of the other spouse.
- A frail older adult is alone, and the concerned family is out-of-town.
- An older person is having problems living independently, and needs help arranging for support services.
- An older person has been diagnosed with a chronic progressive illness and needs assistance with future plans and monitoring.
- An older person needs to move.
- An older person is having difficulty managing his or her finances.
